

Daily Constitution.

W. A. HEMPHILL & CO.
Office: 36 Broad Street, Atlanta, Ga.

THE DAILY M
DAILY, One Year..... $10.00
Six Months..... 5.00
Weekly, One Year..... 2.00
Postage for one year, on Daily, 60 cents
Weekly, 15 cents.
The postage and Postage must be paid in advance. When postage is not remitted, a deduction in time will be made sufficient to cover postage.

RATES OF ADVERTISING FOR VARIOUS ADVERTISEMENTS, THE RATES NAMED IN THE FOLLOWING TABLE:

Length of Square	1 w ^h	2 w ^h	3 w ^h	4 w ^h
Ten Lines	$ 0.50	$ 1.00	$ 1.50	$ 2.00
One Square.....	$ 3.50	$ 6.00	$ 8.00	$ 9.50
Two Squares.....	6.00	10.00	15.00	18.00
Three Squares.....	9.00	16.00	22.00	25.00
Four Squares.....	11.00	20.00	27.00	32.00
Five Squares.....	14.00	24.00	32.00	38.00
Six Squares.....	14.50	25.00	32.50	39.00
Seven Squares.....	15.00	26.00	33.00	39.50
Eight Squares.....	16.00	27.00	34.00	40.00
Nine Squares.....	16.50	27.50	34.50	40.50
Ten Squares.....	17.00	28.00	35.00	41.00
Eleven Squares.....	18.00	29.00	36.00	42.00
Twelve Squares.....	19.00	30.00	37.00	43.00
Thirteen Squares.....	20.00	31.00	38.00	44.00
Fourteen Squares.....	21.00	32.00	39.00	45.00
Fifteen Squares.....	22.00	33.00	40.00	46.00
Sixteen Squares.....	23.00	34.00	41.00	47.00
Seventeen Squares.....	24.00	35.00	42.00	48.00
Eighteen Squares.....	25.00	36.00	43.00	49.00
Nineteen Squares.....	26.00	37.00	44.00	50.00
Twenty Squares.....	27.00	38.00	45.00	51.00
Twenty-one Squares.....	28.00	39.00	46.00	52.00
Twenty-two Squares.....	29.00	40.00	47.00	53.00
Twenty-three Squares.....	30.00	41.00	48.00	54.00
Twenty-four Squares.....	31.00	42.00	49.00	55.00
Twenty-five Squares.....	32.00	43.00	50.00	56.00
Twenty-six Squares.....	33.00	44.00	51.00	57.00
Twenty-seven Squares.....	34.00	45.00	52.00	58.00
Twenty-eight Squares.....	35.00	46.00	53.00	59.00
Twenty-nine Squares.....	36.00	47.00	54.00	60.00
Thirty Squares.....	37.00	48.00	55.00	61.00
Thirty-one Squares.....	38.00	49.00	56.00	62.00
Thirty-two Squares.....	39.00	50.00	57.00	63.00
Thirty-three Squares.....	40.00	51.00	58.00	64.00
Thirty-four Squares.....	41.00	52.00	59.00	65.00
Thirty-five Squares.....	42.00	53.00	60.00	66.00
Thirty-six Squares.....	43.00	54.00	61.00	67.00
Thirty-seven Squares.....	44.00	55.00	62.00	68.00
Thirty-eight Squares.....	45.00	56.00	63.00	69.00
Thirty-nine Squares.....	46.00	57.00	64.00	70.00

Advertisement—A new, fourth off the table rates; two times a week, one half off the table rates; once a day, $1 per square, each insertion.

Water, 15 cents; Gas, 10 cents; and Postage must be paid in advance. When postage is not remitted, a deduction in time will be made sufficient to cover postage.

NOTICES OF ANY kind may be inserted, $1 per square, each insertion.

Theatres, Shows, Minstrel Companies and such like amusements, $1 per square, for one day, $1.50 per square, for two days. A line is estimated at 6 words. Contract rates reasonable.

TRANSIENT ADVERTISEMENTS must be paid in advance.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 30.

Gov. PORTER has ordered an election to be held on the fourteenth day of December to fill the vacancy in the fourth congressional district of Tennessee. One of the candidates for speaker will thus lose a vote when he needs most it.

The September report of imports and exports from the bureau of statistics gives the following figures for the ports of Georgia: Brunswick, imports $1,200,000; Savannah, imports $141,184; exports $28,500; St. Mary's imports $184,184; exports $72,500; St. Mary's imports $184,184; exports $4,300. The balance of trade was against us even from the sea. The State road books for September would gratifyingly enlarge it.

Mr. CARRICK, the Vineyard editor, lived a little over seven months with a bullet in his brain that was suddenly presented to him last March by Landis. If he had survived a year and a day Landis could not have found guilty of murder. The whole day upon which the act was committed is considered the odd day in the eyes of the law. As it is Landis is responsible for the editor's death, and he has already been surrendered by his bondsmen to answer the charge of murder.

COMMISSIONER GIBBS of Tennessee writes to the Nashville American from Philadelphia that it would be a paying investment for Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia—the three iron and coal States of the South—to put up a building jointly on the Exposition grounds for their own purposes. It strikes one as being the residence of a gentleman of unusual wealth and taste. The building should be erected in a tastefully arranged ground, framed of the letters "J. J."

"J. J." stands for John Miller, while chattering on the coolness of Memphis, and all pictures are works of art.

Miller was a man of great wealth, and one made in a carriage block which stands on the curb in front of the grand doorway. This block is of wood and bears in gold a tastefully arranged monogram, formed of the letters "J. J."

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and she is the author of many letters, it says, and their salaries are too high for the hard times. The necessities of the times require that the struggling people deny themselves and practice the most rigid economy in order to make an honest living, and those who hold public offices should make some sacrifices also. The people should protest against the unjust taxes imposed upon them, and demand a reduction. This does not accord with the Augusta Chronicle's demand for higher salaries.

The Canton Georgian complains of the taxes. There are too many officers, it says, and their salaries are too high for the hard times.

The necessities of the times require that the struggling people deny themselves and practice the most rigid economy in order to make an honest living, and those who hold public offices should make some sacrifices also.

The people should protest against the unjust taxes imposed upon them, and demand a reduction. This does not accord with the Augusta Chronicle's demand for higher salaries.

The earthquake shock in the Memphis district was quite extensive although not very severe. It was felt as far west as Little Rock, and as far south as Helena and Forest City. At Memphis it created considerable alarm in different portions of the city. There were three distinct shocks following each other in rapid succession and coming from the southwest. The vibrations were strong enough to rattle windows and crockery in a lively manner, especially in the upper stories of the buildings, and in some instances caused a stampede among the occupants.

A SUDDEN CRASH.

One day there came a little voice into Leeland Stanford's office who spoke in a foreign language. Mr. Stanford knew that John Miller's name was not John Miller but A. R. Woodruff, that he had a wife living in Lynchburg, Va., and his wife, every detail of it had been stolen from the Contract and Finance company.

Such a revelation created a flutter in the office, and the man was soon identified as a Miller, and was regarded as a business man of means.

Miller's wife was a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect giant. He was a pillar in our perfect church, and a few weeks before the crash he packed his bags and was chosen superintendent of his Sunday school. He had worked his way from the clerk of the contract and finance company to the office of secretary, and was soon made a full-fledged member of the board of directors.

Miller's wife is a woman of great beauty, and he had married a lady in Sacramento, who had likewise a large fortune. Hence his luxurious life, and he was a perfect giant. He was a perfect

Daily Constitution.

RINTER FOR COUNTY AND GULF.

General Sales Tax, Sales of Office Products, City and County, published by authority.

Largest Circulation, City, County and State, Data Republic.

General Advertising Agents, H. H. PARKS.

ATLANTA

SUNDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 31

TODAY'S PROPHETIC FOR THE SOUTH ATLANTIC AND GULF STATES 11¢
LAW BOUNDEN WITH WEST TO SOUTHWEST WINDS PARTLY CLOUDY OR CLEARING COLDER WEATHER AND HEAVY SHOWERS SUNDAY NIGHT.

GOLD opened in New York yesterday at 165¢, and closed at 166¢.

LOW MIDDLES closed in New York at 34 1/2¢. In Liverpool at 7.

The Sherman bank note inflation and sham contraction Bill will have to be repealed—New York Sun.

ARRANGEMENTS are being perfected that the West Pa. at cads may camp out for a week or two on the centennial grounds next year.

JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL has invented a new bestiary. He and they who have nothing to say and who can't be persuaded to say it, will be at one time.

ROBERT DALE OWEN is well. He has resumed his literary labors. He lectured a few days ago at the law school in Bloomington, Ind.

SECRETARY ROBESON has ordered the dismissal of Mayer and Knapp, two naval cadets who were kidnapped by a court-martial at the academy.

WHAT is the use, making all this noise?

A country that has lived seven years under Grant can surely endure Zack Chandler for a thousand more, and Encore!

The secretaries from Vladivostok recently launched a series with eighteen inch armor, and will very soon forty-ton guns. If that is true they are likely to have plenty of smoke.

AND 100 gold rials? Yesterday it closed at 110%. The "invariable standard of value" should be taught to pay more attention to the return of the Ohio election.

SECRETARY CHANDLER has 3,200 acre land near Lansing, Mich., where he raises stock.

He is prospering, however, turning 1 into a dairy farm and creating a cheese factory.

THE NEW Hampshire jury halted "Tally," "gentry," and "elite." Shall intelligent juries, the hallmark of freedom and insanity, go to the dogs? Never.

IN England the taxes are paid in four quarterly instalments, and the method works well. It relieves the tax-payer by granting easy terms of payment, and tends to a free circulation of money.

THE ANNUAL estimate for governor is $1,350,000.

Delaware county gave the highest number, 231.

In twenty-two counties no votes were cast for him, and nineteen others gave less than ten each.

OF the persons who are under treatment in the Good Samaritan hospital of Cincinnati, Dr. David Carroll, who was one of the founders of the American Hospital, is now a patient. He is very ill, and he describes him as one of the most fascinating men whom he ever heard speak.

TAXES offered by Senator de Marcellus at the last session of a code of international law were presented at Brighton, England, on the 10th of this month—the first, of £200, to Mr. A. P. Sprague, of Troy, New York, and the second, of £100, to Mr. Pauline, of Boston, Mass., for the promotion of arbitration by local arbitration.

THE cost of Baltimore's new city hall was $2,971,135.64—$200,000 less than the amount appropriated—and it was constructed principally of marble and bronze. It did not sell for the cost of the column supporting its portico. The adjoining state of Wisconsin will be the scene of an active and bitter conflict. Mr. Luddington is the republican candidate. He is a wealthy and successful dealer of Milwaukee, and his friends are leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to beat Gov. Taylor, the democratic and granger's candidate. Gov. Taylor carried this once strong republic in 1873 by 15,412 majority.

Maryland is a thoroughly democratic state, but after the nomination of J. Hu. Lee Carroll as the democratic candidate for governor, some of the sash-ends formed a coalition with the republicans and put J. Morrison Harris in the field as a republican and democratic reform candidate. Nothing now appears in the history of Maryland's next governor.

THE office of secretary of state is the chief place belotted in New York. John Bigelow is the democratic, and Frederic W. Seward the republican candidate. The result is in doubt. The World says that Gov. Tilden's immense majority of last year will be increased. This seems scarcely possible, although the republicans of the populous states are fully demoralized. The chief interest of the New York election is really centered in the struggle of certain parties to break down Tammany's power and influence. Whether Tammany goes under or the great still will endorse the reform movements of the commissioners' interest remains to be seen.

THE OKEFENOKEE EXPEDITION.

It ranks third at the lowest, fourth in importance among the ship owning countries of the world. The total of vessels exhibits a total of 6,930, measuring 22,383 tons. Of these 654 are steamers, 290 ships, 562 barkas, twenty-five barques, seventy-sixty-two briggs, 540 brigs, 3,785 schooners, and 1,100 smaller vessels. 496 new vessels, measuring 100,759 tons, were built in 1874.

MISSISSIPPI is a general complainer throughout the country of want of currency of the denomination of 50cts. None has been printed for more than seven months, and the supply in the Treasury and throughout the country is entirely exhausted. There are on file in the Treasury Department orders for nearly $1,000,000 worth of currency, and there is none whatever on hand. The government is getting ready to fill the orders as soon as possible.

THE weightiest case that ever came before a judicial tribunal was argued before the United States Supreme Court last week, and submitted to that court for final decision. The government is the appellant, and the case came from the court of claims, where the Union Pacific railroad company—the biggest and bold-est of our corporations—obtained a judgment for a little over a half of a million dollars against the people on account of freight carried for the government.

THE case is the "Vest in the history of corporations." The facts are well known. The government has been compelled to pay over to the railroads the sum of $1,000,000,000, which it had collected from the people of Mississippi, and returns from state will be more sought after on Wednesday than any other.

THE Cincinnati Gazette says the resumption of specie payments in 1878, as is required by the act of January last, is "a measure which in its destrictiveness would cost the country more than the war." This is the leading republican paper in Ohio and the state capital, and its editor, Mr. Frolinghuyzen now fills at St. Louis, will be very large though not as the plan of Mr. Johnston's, and will be missed if it would not be triumphant, and Hayes would have been beaten.

THE STRANGEST SUICIDE.

About midnight on Thursday a well-dressed man went aboard the Hoboken ferry boat Ramsey, where she was lying at her dock in New York, and passed through to the boat. He spoke to a passenger, who was standing near the guard-rail smoking, and said: "I guess the river is pretty cold to-night." The man replied: "Well, I'll know all about it in a minute or two." The next moment he had mounted the guard-rail and jumped into the water. The passenger caught him, but the strain was too great for him, and he was obliged to let go. The man did not appear on the surface again, and all efforts to rescue him proved fruitless. It is supposed that he had loaded himself with weights so that he would sink immediately. His hair did not appear, and must have been fastened to his head, so as to prevent any possible chance of identification. N. Y. Times, 328.

A BRAZEN CLAIM.

THE weightiest case that ever came before a judicial tribunal was argued before the United States Supreme Court last week, and submitted to that court for final decision. The government is the appellant, and the case came from the court of claims, where the Union Pacific railroad company—the biggest and bold-est of our corporations—obtained a judgment for a little over a half of a million dollars against the people on account of freight carried for the government.

THE growing advertising patronage of the Constitution greatly encourages us, and our people will stand the CONSTITUTION improving part passu with their liberal support.

SEND in your clubs for THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION.

APPENDIX IN REGARD TO THE Mississippian Elections.

WASHINGTON, October 30.—The following is copied from the very high priced newspaper, the Constitution, manifested here in the coming election in Mississippi, regarding the matter of a full preservation of the public peace in that state. It is copied from the Constitution:

"If the Gazette had, before the election, taken this bold position against forced resumption which it has taken since, Carl Schurz's march through Ohio would have been triumphant, and Hayes would have been beaten."

THE STRANGEST SUICIDE.

About midnight on Thursday a well-dressed man went aboard the Hoboken ferry boat Ramsey, where she was lying

at her dock in New York, and passed through to the boat. He spoke to a passenger, who was standing near the

guard-rail smoking, and said: "I guess

the river is pretty cold to-night."

The man replied: "Well, I'll know all about it in a minute or two." The next

moment he had mounted the guard-rail

and jumped into the water. The passenger caught him, but the strain

was too great for him, and he was obliged to let go. The man did not appear on the surface again, and all

efforts to rescue him proved fruitless.

It is supposed that he had loaded

himself with weights so that he would sink immediately. His hair did not appear, and must have been fastened

to his head, so as to prevent any possible chance of identification.

N. Y. Times, 328.

THE STRANGEST SUICIDE.

About midnight on Thursday a well-

dressed man went aboard the Hoboken

ferry boat Ramsey, where she was lying

at her dock in New York, and passed through to the boat. He spoke to a passenger, who was standing near the

guard-rail smoking, and said: "I guess

the river is pretty cold to-night."

The man replied: "Well, I'll know all

about it in a minute or two." The next

moment he had mounted the guard-rail

and jumped into the water. The passenger caught him, but the strain

was too great for him, and he was obliged to let go. The man did not appear on the surface again, and all

efforts to rescue him proved fruitless.

It is supposed that he had loaded

himself with weights so that he would

sink immediately. His hair did not appear, and must have been fastened

to his head, so as to prevent any possible chance of identification.

N. Y. Times, 328.

THE STRANGEST SUICIDE.

About midnight on Thursday a well-

dressed man went aboard the Hoboken

ferry boat Ramsey, where she was lying

at her dock in New York, and passed through to the boat. He spoke to a passenger, who was standing near the

guard-rail smoking, and said: "I guess

the river is pretty cold to-night."

The man replied: "Well, I'll know all

about it in a minute or two." The next

moment he had mounted the guard-rail

and jumped into the water. The passenger caught him, but the strain

was too great for him, and he was obliged to let go. The man did not appear on the surface again, and all

efforts to rescue him proved fruitless.

It is supposed that he had loaded

himself with weights so that he would

sink immediately. His hair did not appear, and must have been fastened

to his head, so as to prevent any possible chance of identification.

N. Y. Times, 328.

THE STRANGEST SUICIDE.

About midnight on Thursday a well-

dressed man went aboard the Hoboken

ferry boat Ramsey, where she was lying

at her dock in New York, and passed through to the boat. He spoke to a passenger, who was standing near the

guard-rail smoking, and said: "I guess

the river is pretty cold to-night."

The man replied: "Well, I'll know all

about it in a minute or two." The next

moment he had mounted the guard-rail

and jumped into the water. The passenger caught him, but the strain

was too great for him, and he was obliged to let go. The man did not appear on the surface again, and all

efforts to rescue him proved fruitless.

It is supposed that he had loaded

himself with weights so that he would

sink immediately. His hair did not appear, and must have been fastened

The Daily Constitution

LEGEND OF HEINZ VON STEIN.

Out from the hillsides for a walk,
Rode the terrible Heinz von Stein;
He paused at the door of a tavern,
And gazed at the swinging sign.

Then he sat himself down in a corner,
And sipped a glass of cold wine;
Upon a name a flask and a corkcrew,
A master of beauty divine.

Then he strolled with a deep love longing,
And said, "O, damsel mine,
Suppose you just give a few kisses
To the valorous Heinz von Stein."

But the girl said, "I am a maid,
And I have no time to kiss.
The world is passing by me,
And surely I shall be left."

Then he knight was exceedingly angry,
And he said to her what a wretched swindle
For her sour and nasty wine.

And fiercely he rode to his castle,
And sat himself down to die.
And this is the awful legend
Of the terrible Heinz von Stein."

THE FARM AND THE CITY—TWO

VISITS.

An old farm-house with meadow wide,
A long, low, dark, clover-covered side;
A bright-eyed boy, with a broad front,
The door with woodslats were closed about,

And wishes him one thought all day;

From this day spent, he can fly away,

How happy, happy, happy!

How happy I should be!"

BREVITIES.

"Courtship is bliss," said an ardent young man. "Yes, and matrimony is bluster," snarled an old scholar.

Tell me, Sir, who has won "Poor Tito?"

"Oh could I only trace once more
The path of my beloved's steps, I should

The green old meadow could tell,

How happy, happy, happy,

How happy I should be!"

SHIPPING NEWS.

The Empathy Words in His Favorite Hymns; His Voice and Manner.

(N.Y. World report of Brooklyn Revival.)

Mr. Moody suggested that Mr. Sankey favor the audience with a solo, a solo with a chorus, that all might be allowed to take part. Mr. Sankey bowed his head in silent prayer, then sang a solo of his hymn book selected the sixteenth hymn.

One thing is noticeable in Mr. Sankey's solo, and that is his thorough independence of the instrument upon which he is playing. His skill and to those having an accompaniment is in a large measure due to the effectiveness of his singing. He never strikes a chord until he sings in a full, strong chording, and then the chords seem more intended for his own guidance than for any instrumental effect. "Once for All" was sung in this manner.

From the solo, he sang:

"From the law, Oh (the most estate law), happy thy condition."

The chorus was chosen, and, sung at the top of 500 voices:

"Once for all, O sinner, receive it;

"Once for all, O sinner, receive it;

"Christ to the cross, the burden will fall,

Christ has redeemed us all."

The soloist, Mr. Moody opened his Bible and read, in an inspiring manner, verses from one or two of the chapters of Romans, touching the law and the curse of the law, and then, with a slurring in the tone of his voice, "Now, I am going to sing the eight-hymn." He will sing it solo, and looking very severely at an usher who was standing his duty in the middle aisle, said, "Sing it solo, Mr. Sankey solo; it doesn't make so much difference when the congregation is singing." By special request then Mr. Sankey sang "Jesus of Nazareth" passed over in his solo, and the audience was struck by the effect that a man of Mr. Sankey's vocal abilities can readily adapt to a composition of this nature:

What then canst thou do?—
Thou art come to hasten, and to save,
These wondrous gatherings day by day?

What means this strange command, pray,
In such a simple, direct reply,

Of Jesus of Nazareth pass it by?

But still this call I've got,

And all his wondrous love abhors,

Son of ill-fate! from you turn,

Too late! too late! will be the cry;

Jesus of Nazareth has passed by.

The effect produced by the closing lines of the eight-hymn was simply marvellous; the audience, a large, long, thin, broken from the congregation as Mr. Sankey, his countenance wrapped in an angelic smile, paused, fixing his eyes on the ceiling, allowed his body to fall gently back into his chair.

New Advertisements.

GEORGIA, DeKalb County.

Ordinary's Office, October 25, 1875.

H. W. WARREN has applied to me for an exemption of personalty and I will pass upon the same, on the 9th day of October, 1875, in my office, at 10 o'clock a.m.

JOHN B. STEWARD, Ordinary.

Dade Sheriff's Sale.

GEORGIA, DADE COUNTY.—I will, as of October 25, 1875, at the office of the Sheriff, at the Court House door, in the town of Trenton, and said county of Dade, on the first Tuesday in December, 1875, within the limits of the State of Georgia, for the payment of debts due to the State of Georgia, and to the citizens of the United States, on a hearing to be held in the city of Atlanta.

Mrs. Harriet Lewis, the authoress of "The House of Secrets," "Lady Kilgrave," etc., is said to receive a regular salary of $10,000 a year from Boston, Mass., and is the author of "The Music Box," a famous story of two or three years ago, to get a like amount, making an income of $30,000 before taxes.

Of the merits of the Marquis of Lorraine's poem there will be many opinions, but no one can deny the advantages he enjoys over the unhappy bard who is liable, at least, to misery, to be haled down the scaffold. At least, however, he can still summon from his wit to come and pare the potatos for dinner, or to take his turn at the wash tub.

A rich and eccentric Belgian wrote lately to his relatives to come and see him. After imaging the invasion must a regular army of Belgians had arrived, and the author of "The Music Box," a famous story of two or three years ago, to get a like amount, making an income of $30,000 before taxes.

The Oxford University Press has issued a new edition of "The History of the War of the Roses," by Sir Thomas More, and weighs, when bound in leather, less than three and one-half ounces.

The type of this dainty little volume, though very neat, is, however, not clear and legible. The editor of the new edition has, however, done a great deal to improve the original, and has added a number of notes, which the original was trying to get to memory.

The Press Warehouse has also produced two very convenient clasp which it calls "The Oxford Suspended Clasp" for suspending books in the latter case around the wrist, and in the former to a lady's waistband.

A Kentucky paper tells a story of a backwoodsman, who, a few days ago, saw an eagle for the first time. Bowing Green, in that state, he was soon confounded at first thinking it was some kind of ornament—probably an oil paint, but, recollecting a bare place at the further end of the room, stepped back a few paces, and with a running jump, struck the floor six inches from the edge of the carpet. When his head struck the floor, he slipped and fell back, but quickly arose and looking with complacency at the distance he had leaped, exclaimed: "By gosh, I cleared her."

Col. Seller's Adventure.

A correspondent of the Boston Gazette has been visiting John T. Raymond, and Mr. Raymond tells a capital story of adventure he met with in a southern hotel.

When the blood of the south was curdling with horror at the tales of the doings of White and his filibusters, Mr. Raymond had not stopped to consider that, however good it may have been in itself, it was poor for purpose. When in Mobile, they found an old, but extraordinary good hotel, where for economy's sake, Mr. Raymond took a room on the second floor, in the sky, which contained two beds. For this reason he was obliged to leave the bed at night, in case the other bed should be filled. After a hard night, he sat up in his bed studying, when the light of a lamp, dip, when the old eye-worm in walked a perfect type of despotism. This hand the man carried a long knife drawn and, this he flung upon the table, with a very fearful oath, "I can't bear the sight of him that time." This was not very good for his room mate, whose hand instinctively under pillow, where a six-shooter was quickly repeating. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night. It is useless to say that sleep was quickly repaid. It only carried a very small charge, but the city of course, would not have tickled the man. The asked Mr. Raymond if he was "sound on the goos," to which the gentleman replied, "There are no one sounder." After that, the man laid his blood-stained knife within an inch of the man's nose, and then turned it for the night.

